Any advice you receive from us that takes your personal objectives, financial situation or needs into account will be confirmed in writing in the Statement of Advice (SOA). The PDS contains information about the particular financial product to help you make a decision about that product.

4. What financial services can your Adviser provide?

Will you receive personal financial advice?

Yes, your Adviser is qualified and authorised to provide you with personal financial advice that is tailored to your needs, objectives and financial situation. Your adviser is also able to provide you with general advice and factual information, and transact on your behalf.

What information should you provide to receive personal financial advice?

In order to provide you with appropriate advice, your Adviser will ask you to provide information about:

- your personal circumstances;
- details of your current financial situation; and

- other relevant matters.

You have the right not to disclose all information but your Adviser may not be able to provide advice that is appropriate to your needs, objectives and financial situation without it.

You should read the warnings contained in any documentation carefully before making any decision relating to a financial product.

What is the extent of the advice that your Adviser can offer you?

Your Adviser can provide personal financial advice, and deal (transact on your behalf), relating to the following types of financial product:

- Securities - (eg listed securities, hybrid securities and listed property trusts)
- Managed investment schemes - (eg managed funds, unit trusts, Separately Managed Accounts and Investment Directed Portfolio Services)
- Investment and funeral bonds
- Deposit Products - (eg term deposits, savings accounts)
- Government debentures, stocks and bonds
- Personal and Business Risk Insurance (eg income protection, total and permanent disability, trauma, life cover, business overheads insurance, and group life insurance)
- Superannuation - (eg rollovers, account based pensions and annuities)
- Margin loans
- Retirement Savings Accounts

How advice must be provided

Personal financial advice will be provided to you in writing (in an SOA) only after your Adviser has reviewed the information you have provided to us and has carefully considered your financial goals.

What other information will I need from you?

If you decide to implement my advice, the law requires me to obtain additional information from you and to confirm the accuracy of that information. In particular, I will need to verify your full name, date of birth and residential address. In order to do so I will need to sight various identification documents such as a current Australian Driver's Licence or Australian Passport, and keep records of the identified documents. To minimise your inconvenience I will generally try to verify this information at the same time as I collect information about your financial needs and objectives. However, if you would prefer the verification not to occur until you decide to implement the advice please let me know. Please appreciate that the verified information will be made available to your product provider(s) and that they are unable to process your application without this verification.

The scope of financial products used to meet your needs

Financial Wisdom maintains an Approved Product List containing financial products issued by Commonwealth Bank Group and by third parties. A research team compiles and regularly reviews this list. I normally recommend Commonwealth Bank Group products and platforms, where these products are appropriate for your needs and circumstances. These products and platforms include a diverse range of fund managers. Any other products I recommend must meet Financial Wisdom's selection and approval process.

Limits on the advice that can be provided

When making recommendations to you, tax, social security and estate planning issues can be discussed but we are not authorised to give advice relating to these issues. If you want detailed advice you should consult a specialist in that area.

It is important to note that your Adviser cannot provide advice on the following:

- General Insurance
- Derivatives
- Foreign Exchange

Other services available from Financial Wisdom

Financial Wisdom is able to offer advice on a range of financial products that may be broader than your Adviser can offer you. A summary of all the services available from Financial Wisdom is provided in section 8.

Can you make a transaction without receiving personal financial advice?

Yes, we can take your instructions to transact on your behalf and place a financial product (that Financial Wisdom is able to offer) without providing personal financial advice.

How do you provide instructions to your Adviser?

Generally we need you to instruct your Adviser in person, as your signature will be required for verification. However, for some products and services it is possible for special arrangements to be put in place where instructions can be given to your Adviser by fax, phone or e-mail.

What personal information is maintained in your file and is it kept secure?

The law requires us to keep a record of your personal profile. This has to include details of your personal needs, objectives and financial situation and a record of any advice given to you.

Financial Wisdom is committed to ensuring the privacy and security of your personal information. As part of our continuing commitment to client service and maintenance of client confidentiality we have adopted the principles set out in the Privacy Act. For further details please refer to the Commonwealth Bank Group's Privacy Policy at www.commbank.com.au. If you wish to examine your file please ask your Adviser.

Will your portfolio be reviewed?

We recommend that you review your financial situation every 12 months or whenever your personal or financial circumstances change. It is your responsibility to initiate the review process. If you would like a review, or you have any concerns, please contact your Adviser.

You will, of course, receive regular information from the product providers about the value and performance of your investments, as well as details of any insurance policy cover.

What happens if we provide you with further advice?

When we provide you with personal advice, you will initially receive a Statement of Advice (SOA). Where you maintain the advice relationship with us, a SOA is generally not provided for further advice situations provided your circumstances and the basis of the advice are not significantly different. However we are required to keep a record of advice.

You may request a copy of the record of advice we keep. Any request must be made within 7 years of the provision of such advice, and should be directed to your Adviser.

5. What fees and commissions are paid to Financial Wisdom?

What are the costs involved in obtaining advice and to whom are they paid?

A range of fees and commissions may be paid for the advice you receive and the financial products used. These fees and commissions are paid to Financial Wisdom as the Licensee and are not paid directly to your Adviser. How your Adviser is paid is set out in section 6, "What does Financial Wisdom pay your Adviser?" and will be fully detailed in your SOA.

The types of payments are outlined below. Before providing any financial advice your Adviser will discuss these options with you and help you select the payment method that suits you best.

In all cases, details of payment required for the services provided will be given to you at the time of any personal financial advice or when executing a transaction on your behalf. All fees detailed below are inclusive of GST (where applicable).

A. Fee for Service Provided

Under this method of payment, there are set fees for each service provided to you.

- You may be charged a fee of $330.00 including GST for your initial consultation with your Adviser.
- There is a fee for the preparation of your SOA which is based upon the complexity of the advice. You will be quoted a fee on an individual basis for the initial advice.

You will be provided with a tax invoice for the service provided and you will need to provide a cheque or money order payable to Financial Wisdom in accordance with the invoice.

Hourly Rate Direct Charges

Your Adviser may charge an hourly rate for financial services. The current rate is $330.00 per hour or part thereof. Part or all of the initial commissions received from a product provider may be rebated to you if this charging option is used.

Before going ahead you will be given an estimate of the time that your Adviser will need. Under this fee structure, you will be given a tax invoice for the service provided. Payment is made to Financial Wisdom in accordance with the invoice.

B. Commissions & Adviser Service Fee

i) Commissions

Under this method of payment, Financial Wisdom receives a commission directly from the product provider. This commission is based on a percentage of the funds you invest or the premiums you pay. Commissions are not paid directly by you, but are deducted from the investment or premium by the product provider.

These commissions fall into two general categories:

- Initial Commission - This is a one off commission paid at the start of an investment or insurance policy. The initial commission on an investment product, including superannuation, can be up to 5.5% (GST inclusive) of the investment amount. The initial commission on an insurance product can be up to 135% (GST inclusive) of the first year's premium.

- Ongoing Commission - This is paid every year in which the investment or insurance policy is maintained, as part of the product provider's ongoing charges. The ongoing commission on investment products, including superannuation, can be up to 1.1%pa (GST inclusive) of the investment amount. The ongoing commission on insurance products can be up to 38.5%pa (GST inclusive) of the renewal premium.

ii) Adviser Service Fee

The Adviser Service Fee is a fee agreed between you and your Adviser for their ongoing advice and service. It is paid to Financial Wisdom, and Financial Wisdom may pay part or all of the fee to your Adviser.

Some products offer the option to deduct the Adviser Service Fee from your funds on a periodic basis.

If this fee is to apply to you, it will be fully detailed in your SOA.

C. Direct Share Investment

Your Adviser can charge you a fee over and above the brokerage fee charged by Core Equity Service for trading shares, and a management fee based on the value of your direct share investment. This charge is optional and has no minimum or maximum. These fees and commissions will be detailed in your SOA.

D. Margin Lending

If you take up a margin loan upon our recommendation, Financial Wisdom will receive a commission based on the loan amount, paid on an annual basis. Financial Wisdom will pass this on to your Adviser. It will be fully detailed in your SOA.

F. Other benefits that may be received

Financial Wisdom assesses and rewards its Advisers based on the quality of advice provided to clients, the continuing professional development of Advisers, and the management, size and growth of an Adviser's practice. Together these measures form a Practice Quality score ("PQ") which is compiled by Financial Wisdom.

Financial Wisdom may receive payments from product providers on the Financial Wisdom Approved Product List based on funds under administration, new business or new insurance premiums (while meeting policy lapse rate targets) written by Financial Wisdom Advisers. These payments are paid to Financial Wisdom quarterly and may be shared with your adviser as outlined below. These payments are not deducted from your investment nor are they an additional cost to you. Details of any revenue sharing arrangements which may apply to any products recommended to you will be set out in the SOA.

Short Term Incentive:

The payments that Financial Wisdom may receive from product providers are based on the level of investments by Financial Wisdom clients in those products. The payments form part of a pool maintained by Financial Wisdom. From this pool, the Financial Wisdom Adviser may qualify for a Short Term Incentive (STI) payment provided he/she obtains a minimum PQ and achieves minimum levels of advice quality, business revenue, and for productivity and business retention. Any benefit the Adviser receives under the STI is not an additional cost to you.

In addition:

- Financial Wisdom Advisers may be invited to participate, sometimes with their partners, in domestic and international educational conferences and seminars arranged by Financial Wisdom. It is not possible to estimate a dollar value of these benefits at this time. Their attendance may be paid for in full or subsidised by Financial Wisdom, or it may be at their own cost.
- Financial Wisdom Advisers may receive minor unquantifiable benefits including business lunches, tickets to sporting and cultural events, corporate promotional merchandise, and other minor benefits from Financial Wisdom or product providers whose products Financial Wisdom recommends. Given that such benefits are discretionary and relate to future events, it is not possible to provide an estimated dollar value. The details of any benefit received will be recorded in our register of alternative forms of remuneration, which is available for inspection by contacting Financial Wisdom.
- Financial Wisdom Advisers have access to a Business Valuation Package offered by Financial Wisdom, which is subject to certain conditions. The amount Financial Wisdom would pay for the Adviser's business depends on a range of factors including compliance history and financial performance.

Partners in Wisdom Program

Financial Wisdom, as the licensee, may receive payments from a number of product providers to help fund professional development programs, study tours and conferences, and various other functions attended by Advisers. These payments are not linked to volume of sales. Financial Wisdom currently offers platinum, gold, silver and purple packages where the product provider can partner with Financial Wisdom in providing Adviser training and conferences. A list of current Partners in Wisdom is available on the Financial Wisdom website.

Are fees paid for referrals?

If you have been referred to us by someone else, or if we refer you to someone else, Financial Wisdom or the Adviser may pay them a fee or commission, or may receive a referral fee. The SOA will disclose these referral payments and the amounts paid.

6. What does Financial Wisdom pay your Adviser?

Once Financial Wisdom receives payment for a service, it will pay your Adviser a 100% of the commission, fee and bonus amount received by Financial Wisdom.

The exact amounts payable to Financial Wisdom and your Adviser will be disclosed in your SOA. If the amount is not calculable at the time the SOA is given, the way the amount is calculated will be disclosed in the SOA.

Financial Wisdom and your Adviser maintain a public register of alternative forms of remuneration of $300 or equivalent value received from product providers or fund managers whose products or platforms Financial Wisdom Advisers recommend. We also maintain a Conflicts of Interest register. Conflicts of interests are circumstances where some or all of your interests are inconsistent with, or diverge from, some or all of the interests of Financial Wisdom or your Adviser.
